Skylights

10 year limited warranty against hail breakage

Special addendum to specific product warranty

In response to a natural disaster in your area, VELUX Skylights is extending special considerations not normally offered under our specific product warranty.

For a limited time, VELUX Skylights will offer a warranty against glass breakage caused by hail on any VELUX model FCM, VCM or VCE skylight purchased and installed in Dallas, Tarrant and adjacent counties in Texas, for a period of 10 years from installation date.

To qualify, products must be purchased prior to July 31, 2011.

This guarantee does not include installation labor or any other consequential damages. This warranty does not cover cosmetic damage or other damages that do not inhibit the normal operation or serviceability of the skylight. The intent of this warranty is specifically to provide protection to the homeowner against glass breakage caused by hail and not other potential causes of skylight damage.

All standard terms and conditions of our standard specific product warranty remain in effect. To view a copy please visit our website at www.veluxusa.com.
